

Additional Information about the
Live Well San Diego
Unemployment Indicator

UNEMPLOYMENT

The Live Well San Diego Top 10 Indicator Unemployment Rate measures percent of the total labor force ages 16 years and over that is unemployed, available and willing to work, and actively seeking employment. Together with a second Live Well San Diego Top 10 'Income', these two closely related Indicators look at having enough resources for a quality of life.

The rate of unemployment has a strong negative influence on the financial health and overall well-being of the population. It reflects a community's overall economic situation and provides information about the percentage of the population that may be at risk for various health concerns associated with unemployment. Because employer-sponsored health insurance is the most common source of health insurance coverage, unemployment can also limit access to health care. Evaluations, such as the County Health Rankings and Healthy People 2020, all measure employment rate as an indicator for success.
